

ZONTA INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION

27-30 June 2024 | Brisbane, Australia

Acknowledgement of Country

Zonta International acknowledges the Traditional Custodians of the land on which we meet for our 66th International Convention.

This is the land of the Turrbal and Jagera peoples. It is traditionally known as Meanjin, which means the place of the blue water lilies in the language of the Turrbal people. This place has always been a gathering place and we, as Zontians, are grateful to all who meet here in 2024—to share our stories, learnings and fellowship, as has been done throughout time.

The Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people of Australia are the first people of this country and they proudly represent the world's oldest living culture. They have cared for the land, the waters and the living creatures of this place for over 60,000 years. We pay our deep respect to their Elders past and present and to the emerging leaders who preserve their knowledge and create new stories for today and tomorrow, to build a bright future and better world for the generations to come.

During our time here, we commit to walking softly on this country and taking only our memories home with us.

Meet the designer—Keisha Leon

Keisha is a proud Waanyi and Kalkadoon woman who now lives in Meanjin/Brisbane. She uses narratives in her designs that reflect her own experiences. Keisha connects conceptual design with social outcomes to change the narrative for the future.

The Waanyi people are the traditional custodians of lands in the south of the Gulf of Carpentaria in Queensland and the Northern Territory. The Kalkadoon are the descendants of the Aboriginal Australians living in the Mount Isa region of Queensland.

The story behind the graphic artwork

Keisha took her inspiration from the 2024 Zonta International Convention location of Brisbane as well as Zonta's mission: Build a better world for women and girls.

The artwork reflects the diverse stories and communities that shape Brisbane (Meanjin) and the diverse people coming together for the 2024 Convention, sharing ideas and shaping futures.

The image replicates the shape of the Brisbane River as it snakes its way through the Queensland capital. It combines different photographic elements to showcase what Brisbane has to offer as well as conceptual elements that reflect the spirit of Zonta.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

I join my fellow Zonta International and Zonta Foundation for Women Board members and leaders as we all extend a heartfelt welcome to all of those who have joined us in Brisbane for our 66th International Convention! I know we are all excited as we come together to celebrate the close to a wonderful biennium while also carrying over all of our energies to open the next Zonta chapter!

This weekend, embrace the Zonta Spirit—a kind of magic that happens when passionate minds converge, ideas collide, and inspiration takes flight. Whether you are a seasoned attendee or a first-timer to Convention, you are not just joining an event; you are stepping into a realm of possibilities. Be sure that you are sharing your favorite moments and connecting with your fellow attendees on our Convention App and through social media using the hashtag #ZontaBrisbane.

I want to thank all of you who have made the time and arrangements to come to Brisbane. While we feel so closely connected throughout the biennium through our emails, calls and videos, there is nothing that can replace the feeling of seeing each other face to face.

I also want to thank the Zonta Convention Committee for all of their hard work over the last two years and more! They have been tirelessly planning what I know will be a Convention that you will never forget from our amazing keynote speakers to the outings and even our well-earned coffee breaks!

So, let us spend these last days of the biennium the way we started it—with fun, focus and fellowship! Join me in Zonta Spirit and welcoming and encouraging the next group of leaders as they begin their biennium. Together, through each step forward, we build a better world for women and girls. Thank you for taking this journey with me — I will never forget our time together.

PRESIDENT-ELECT'S MESSAGE

Greetings Zontians and friends,

I join President Ute in welcoming all of you to Brisbane as we celebrate our international convention—the third one hosted here in Australia.

These next few days are going to be an incredible experience for all of us who were able to make it across oceans or across the continent. And I am very happy to know that we are also able to include all of those who are putting on their best digital backgrounds and joining us virtually!

I am eager to hear the stories we will share and be part of the memories we will make. I am looking forward to celebrating the work we have done to build a better world for women and girls over these last two years, and I am excited to see how we will continue this work as we carry our mission forward into the next biennium. As we take yet another step forward, let us embrace sustainability, live the Zonta Spirit and speak up for human rights.

So, shall we get down to business? We are in for an exciting long weekend here in Brisbane. Get ready for our keynote speakers, workshops, club stories and presentations to inspire your own actions and give you the motivation to tackle our upcoming biennial goals. I am very honored to be beside you throughout the next two years as we work hard and will have much success to celebrate in Vancouver in 2026.

Thank you for all you have done and all you will do now and for years to come—keep up the good work and have fun!

In Zonta Spirit,

Salla Tuominen

2024 CONVENTION CHAIR'S MESSAGE

Dear Zontians, Golden Z club members, awardee alumnae and guests,

On behalf of the 2024 Convention Committee, I welcome you to Brisbane, Australia for the 66th Zonta International Convention!

If this is your first visit to Australia, Brisbane is a great place to start with so much to see and do right at the convention centre doorstep. I do hope many of you will take the time to go exploring either around Queensland or into other parts of our wonderful country with its ancient and unique culture.

I know your time here, either in-person or virtually, will be special. For many, it is a time to renew friendships and create many new memories. For the more than 550 first-timers to Convention, it will be a new journey full of great inspiration and wonderful experiences.

My committee has ensured that there will be time to celebrate our successes of the last biennium and to hear about the exciting projects planned for the next two years ahead.

I can promise it will be informative and lots of fun and as busy and as social as you want to make it. I am so pleased you have decided to join me, the Convention team, and your Zonta hosts in District 22, to participate in this exciting event in Brisbane Australia.

We thank you for joining us here and for making this experience something to remember!

Warmest regards,

DISTRICT 22 GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

Dear Zonta colleagues and guests,

Welcome, welcome, welcome to District 22! We have looked forward to your arrival for the Zonta International Convention for so long and are very excited to learn about your Zonta activities and ideas, and share our Zonta experiences with you, too.

From our beautiful beaches and coastal rivers to the western plains and boulders of the Outback, District 22 Zontians are working to overcome the challenges of violence against women and girls, gender inequality in employment and educational opportunities for girls, and particularly topical for us, the increasing rates of homelessness for women.

Our club projects are as diverse as the land upon which the clubs meet. I hope you will meet our Zontians who run a coffee van at local events, and those who barbeque many, many sausages to raise funds for Zonta projects. You might discuss the safety of women on our streets, in their homes or in their workplaces, and how survivors of family and domestic violence receive support from Zonta. Many of our clubs have scholarships for school-aged girls to encourage them toward STEM subjects and to stay in school. There are Zontians who have refurbished rooms at police stations for victims of crime to feel more comfortable, and a hospital room so that bereaved parents of neonates have a private space. Other clubs support visual and acrobatic arts programmes that help build the confidence and economic security of women. I am certain you will share your wonderful projects with Zonta colleagues during the 2024 Convention.

As we meet for the Zonta International 66th Convention in Brisbane, I am certain our combined energies will continue to build a better world for women and girls. I look forward with enthusiasm to working with you.

MESSAGE FROM THE MINISTER FOR TOURISM AND SPORT, THE HON. MICHAEL HEALY MP

It is my pleasure to welcome you to the Zonta International Convention.

We know that many of you have travelled far and wide to be here today and we hope that while you're here you are able to make the most of this world-class destination.

We're so happy to host you here in Australia and particularly Brisbane, where the opportunity for exploration is truly endless. Brisbane has so many incredible things on offer with so much to see and do, from delicious dining in picturesque restaurants to unique cultural experiences.

Business events represent one of the highest yielding sectors in our country's visitor economy and that is why the Queensland Government is proud to support the Zonta International Convention through Tourism and Events Queensland.

Thank you for being here. We know you will find the Zonta International Convention highly valuable and we will so gladly welcome each and every one of you back to Brisbane any time.

The Hon. Michael Healy MP

SPECIAL ACKNOWLEDGMENTS FROM UN AGENCIES

“Zonta International is steadfast in its commitment to the rights of women and girls around the world. As a dedicated partner of UNFPA since 2008, Zonta’s generous support has propelled our efforts to improve maternal health, end obstetric fistula, and to protect adolescent girls from child marriage. Most recently, Zonta and UNFPA are partnering to strengthen services for over 650,000 survivors of gender-based violence in Papua New Guinea and Timor-Leste—a groundbreaking collaboration that is delivering vital services for those who need them most.”

Dr. Natalia Kanem, Executive Director, UNFPA

“On Zonta International’s 66th Convention, I wish to commend Zontians from across the globe for their impact on women and girls. Your support to UNICEF, during the 2022-2024 Biennium, was instrumental in ensuring continued progress towards gender equality. Thanks to Zonta’s partnership, adolescent girls who have experienced violence at school or home in Peru received access to healthcare and psychosocial support; marginalized girls around the world at risk of early marriage are receiving support and services that enable them to make effective choices about their lives; 1,000 students and 1,500 teachers have been trained in water conservation, environmental education, and Menstrual Hygiene Management in Madagascar. As we reflect on over 50 years of partnership, UNICEF USA has been proud to partner with Zonta International since 1972, and we look forward to continued momentum for women and girls.”

ZONTA INTERNATIONAL HEADQUARTERS

On behalf of the Zonta International Headquarters team, it is my pleasure to welcome you to the 2024 Zonta International Convention.

Every biennium, the Headquarters staff works with the Zonta International and Zonta Foundation for Women Boards, international committees and governors in support of the biennial goals and Zonta’s mission to build a better world for women and girls. This biennium has been an exciting and rewarding one, as we emerged from the COVID-19 pandemic and looked toward the future. We were able to return to the United Nations and meet in person at the annual Commission on the Status of Women, celebrated the 85th anniversary of the Amelia Earhart Fellowship, welcomed many new Zonta clubs across the Zonta world, and released a new strategic plan to guide us on the way forward. We hope that you are as energized as we are by all the exciting possibilities ahead for Zonta!

We are so happy to be here with you in Brisbane and online via the Convention app. We love every opportunity to meet our members and learn about the work you are doing at the local level. If there is anything we can do to support you in your service and advocacy efforts, please do not hesitate to ask. I hope that you have the opportunity to meet some of our wonderful Headquarters staff who are here in Brisbane. We are a small but committed team who share your vision for a gender-equal world.

We would also like to offer a special note of appreciation to the 2024 Convention Committee and the District 22 Zonta clubs. The dedication and teamwork it took to organize this event truly exemplifies the Zonta Spirit.

PROPOSED 2024–2026 BIENNIAL GOALS

The challenges facing women and girls globally are vast and complex, reflecting deeply ingrained societal norms, systemic inequalities and discriminatory practices. In the face of these challenges, Zontians stand ready to take action.

Together, we have the power to rewrite the narrative and realize a world in which women's rights are human rights and the promise of a sustainable, equitable future is realized for generations to come. Let us stand together as one to champion Sustainable Development Goal 5 to achieve gender equality and empower all women and girls. It is not merely a goal; it is a promise to ensure that no woman or girl is left behind, that their voices are heard and that their dreams and potential are nurtured and realized.

These Zonta International biennial goals for 2024–2026 are aligned with Zonta International's mission, vision and strategic plan and outline the focus for the 2024–2026 Biennium. The biennial goals describe the most critical items for our global community to concentrate on in the next two years as we build a better world for women and girls.

Alongside these biennial goals, we have comprehensive and detailed operational plans with targets and key performance indicators for daily operations carried out by our International Headquarters Team and supervised by the Zonta International Board.

The biennial goals ensure that we implement Zonta International's strategic plan in an aligned manner. Zonta International and its members run towards the same ultimate goal; gender equality. We do it together in a nonpartisan and nonsectarian organization with inspiring spirit, taking into account the sustainability of any and all actions for Zonta, our operational environment and society. We focus on the human rights of women and girls. Despite the biennial structure of our organization, we take a longer-term view of the future and ensure continuity of Zonta business.

In order to emphasize the organization's need to operate in accordance with the strategic plan published in 2023, these biennial goals are categorized under the four major goals identified in the strategic plan:

CREDIBLE AND VISIBLE VOICE

CLUB SUCCESS

LEADERSHIP AND SUSTAINABILITY

ENGAGEMENT OF AUDIENCES
AND ALLIES

Some of the biennial goals presented below are linked to more than one of the above-mentioned focus areas but are categorized here in the biennial goals only under one focus area.

While the biennial goals include certain goals for the districts and clubs, aligned with the strategic plan, districts and clubs should develop and implement their own goals to meet local needs and conditions.

At the 2026 Convention in Vancouver, a report will be issued on how these biennial goals were fulfilled. In addition, the 2026 Convention will be an important milestone to analyze what we achieved with our international service projects and educational programs and what the path forward will be to build a better world for women and girls. Some potential changes to Zonta operations identified and prepared during the 2024–2026 Biennium in accordance with the biennial goals may also be implemented.

The 2026 Vancouver Convention will be a convention arranged with sustainability as a whole in focus and an opportunity to truly live the Zonta spirit, meet old and new friends and celebrate our successes in speaking up for the human rights of women and girls. It will be “the place to be” for fun with purpose!

CREDIBLE AND VISIBLE VOICE

Zonta acts as a credible and visible voice on gender equity, driving change for gender equality. By focusing on increasing Zonta International's credibility and visibility we move closer to achieving Zonta's mission. While many actions need to be taken, during the 2024-2026 Biennium, our focus will be on the following actions:

- In advocacy and service at international, district and club levels, focus will be on the following areas:

VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN

CLIMATE JUSTICE

WOMEN IN DECISION-MAKING

EDUCATION EQUALITY

This does not mean that all clubs should have activities around all four focus areas, but the most appropriate and necessary area(s) can be chosen based on local needs.

- A training program on women's rights and how to be a gender equity advocate will be developed and launched.
- In the area of advocacy, emphasis is put to bring the human rights of women and girls forward in order to achieve gender equality. Therefore, caucuses, unions or similar types of alliances are built on national level, within or across districts where such groups do not already exist, to enable Zontians to be more effective as gender equity advocates. The work of caucuses, unions and other similar alliances will be brought more closely under the umbrella of Zonta International advocacy and communications to demonstrate the true scope of Zonta advocacy globally.

- A new working group will be established to support planning and following up the Zonta Says NO to Violence Against Women campaign as Zonta's proprietary advocacy campaign. The working group will also follow the advocacy work around the globe for ending gender-based violence as a serious human rights violation. Zonta Says NO summits will be organized twice a biennium.
- A quarterly Zonta virtual advocacy series is launched with high-quality speakers on compelling topics.
- International service projects have a clear focus, aim to address the root causes hindering gender equality with long-term implications and have a clear link to advocacy actions to bring about sustainable, systemic change.

- The signature international service project “Ending Child Marriage” in partnership with UNICEF USA and UNFPA will be elevated with a special virtual annual event which will enable Zontians to follow the progress of the project and keep members regularly informed also on the advocacy work done in the field of ending child marriage.
- Zonta’s educational programs are appealing, meaningful and beneficial for recipients while differentiating Zonta from other organizations and increasing Zonta’s visibility and credibility.
- Remarkable Women, Powerful Stories is rebranded and distributed as a podcast on a global podcast platform with high-level guests focusing on violence against women, climate justice, women in decision-making and education equality to gain more visibility outside of the Zonta world.
- A quarterly stakeholder newsletter is implemented to highlight Zonta International’s philanthropic and programmatic work, communicate progress and results to donors and other stakeholders and encourage more individuals and organizations to support Zonta’s life-changing work.
- Zonta stays relevant, focused, and is seen and heard as an influential force for gender equity globally. This is supported with globally aligned and shared moments for activism on an annual basis as follows:
 - 8 March Zonta Rose Day | International Women’s Day
This is the day to discuss Zonta’s aim for reaching gender equality, advocate for women in decision-making positions, and emphasize Zonta’s commitments and activity in the United Nations, African Union and Council of Europe.
 - 22 April Earth Day
This is the day for actions for climate justice, promoting Zonta’s Statement on Climate Change: A Gender Equality Issue and the work of Zonta Says NOW Think Tank.
 - 11 October International Day of the Girl Child
This is the day for the future, emphasizing education equality and child marriage prevention and Zonta’s work in these fields.
 - 25 November–10 December Zonta Says No To Violence Against Women
The Zonta Says NO to Violence Against Women campaign illustrates Zonta’s continued commitment to ending gender-based violence.

CLUB SUCCESS

By focusing on club success we maintain a strong membership base to support the work we do to build a better world for women and girls. The following actions will be taken:

- To nurture the Zonta spirit, the Zonta International Board will, together with the members, prepare the core values of Zonta and a Membership Code of Conduct to foster a culture of mutual understanding and respect as well as support healthy and thriving Zonta clubs.
- A new membership strategy will be prepared for club members, young professionals, supporting members, international honorary members and past international presidents. Opportunities for new membership categories such as e.g., corporate membership and student membership will be explored. A report will be presented latest at the 2026 Convention in Vancouver.
- A feasibility study will be conducted, in partnership with the Zonta Foundation for Women, on the merits and viability of establishing a Zonta Community Give Back Grant program to recognize and support meaningful local club projects addressing gender equity, education equality, climate justice, women in decision-making positions and/or violence against women. The report will be presented latest at the 2026 Convention in Vancouver.
- Possibilities for a new annual Share Your Story Festival will be explored to bring members together virtually in 2025 and in person at the 2026 Convention in Vancouver.
- Chartering of new clubs is important and this critical work will be continued in each district by having club creators in place and providing additional resources to support their efforts.

- Zonta is actively looking to build a better world for women and girls in the countries where Zonta does not yet have a footprint, not only through the international service projects, but by approving new Zonta countries and chartering clubs in these new countries.
- In recruitment of new Zontians, a greater emphasis will be placed on diversity and inclusion and building a welcoming environment for people from various genders, age groups, ethnicities and all other backgrounds.
- Clubs serve as a welcoming and inspiring environment for Zontians working towards Zonta's mission and fostering the Zonta spirit. With the tools made available by Zonta International, the clubs critically analyze, what improvements can be made within each club to align with Zonta international's strategic plan while being a motivational environment for the club members and fit for the future.
- A twinning program for clubs wanting to increase their fellowship and global Zonta spirit with clubs in other countries is launched.

LEADERSHIP AND SUSTAINABILITY

Zonta manages its resources, including both time and money, to meet Zonta's vision and ensure Zonta's long-term viability and success. Governance, leadership and internal structures are addressed to enable the effective achievement for Zonta's mission. Sustainability is crucial for any actions in building an equal, responsible, green and clean future where the human rights of women and girls are recognized and implemented. The following actions will be taken:

- The strategic plan is constantly monitored by the Zonta International Board to ensure that it remains relevant and is appropriately implemented – it is never final but a living plan, the implementation of which needs to be supervised and changes made, if needed.
- The 10-year financial forecast is updated regularly to focus on long-term financial planning.
- Donation trends and investment strategies are monitored on an ongoing basis. Clubs and supporting members support the fundraising goals of Zonta Foundation for Women to fulfil commitments to the international service projects and educational programs. The Zonta 1919 Legacy Giving Circle is promoted by the foundation ambassadors teams and an increase of 25 members is achieved annually.
- A working group is established to analyze how the Zonta International governance structure (including district and club governance) could be streamlined and modernized. The analysis shall, among other issues, include the roles, sizes and compositions of districts, possibilities to simplify club governance, exploring the role of convention and methods to simplify the organizational voting process as well as possible amendments to the governing documents. The report will be presented latest at the 2026 Convention in Vancouver.
- An analysis of the status of sustainability and environmental, social and governance (ESG) issues within Zonta International is undertaken and internal policies drafted, when necessary.
- Last but not least, a smooth leadership transition safeguarding continuity occurs between biennia of 2022-2024 and 2024-2026 as well as 2024-2026 and 2026-2028.

ENGAGEMENT OF AUDIENCE AND ALLIES

In order to further Zonta's mission and extend voice, Zonta develops collaborations with like-minded organizations. The following actions will be taken:

- Increased communication, both internally and externally, focuses on Zonta's work with the United Nations and its agencies as well as with the African Union, Council of Europe, and various Zonta caucuses and other country-based advocacy groups.
- Zonta looks for advocacy partnerships with an aim to have at least one global partnership in place by the end of 2025 and at least two other partnerships for joint statements. Further, partnership opportunities are explored by the summer 2025 for Zonta's educational programs which could be e.g., mentoring or internships.
- The Commission on the Status of Women is an annual opportunity to meet, enjoy fellowship, build bridges to other like-minded organizations, experience Zonta spirit and become a more knowledgeable and engaged advocate for gender equality. Zonta International hosts annually at least one side event within the Commission on the Status of Women with the emphasis on Zonta's strategic focus areas. Zonta International's delegation to the Commission on the Status of Women increases annually by 5% over the previous year.
- A feasibility study will be conducted on identifying and assessing options for alternative funding and revenue sources such as e.g., corporate sponsorships or offering formal certificate courses or study groups on gender equity to university students, HR professionals, sustainability and ESG professionals, compliance professionals or other interested individuals. The report will be presented to the membership latest in the summer 2025.
- Besides the feasibility study referred to above, in order to stay financially sustainable Zonta International seeks sponsorships for itself with a target of at least US$50,000 of additional biennial revenue. Possibilities to engage long-standing corporate donors via corporate grants to significantly increase donations for Zonta Foundation for Women will also be explored.

ZONTA INTERNATIONAL SIGNATURE PROJECT:

ENDING CHILD MARRIAGE: A PROGRAM TO ACCELERATE GLOBAL ACTION PHASE III

GOAL

With renewed ambition toward 2030, the Global Programme will boost its actions to accelerate the decline in child marriage globally and respond to the combined effects of the polycrisis and the pushback against gender equality on adolescent girls.

FUNDING: US$1,500,000

PHASE III (2024-2026)

Zonta International's continued support in the final phase of the Global Programme will focus on strengthening government capacity and ownership of the work and generating important evidence and data to sustain the program long term.

PHASE II (2020-2024)

Phase II brought increased political support, resources about healthy and safe decisions, gender-responsive policies, as well as enhanced investments in and support for both unmarried and married adolescent girls. Over 6.3 million adolescent girls were empowered with life skills and comprehensive sexuality education were delivered through safe spaces in communities and schools.

PHASE I (2016-2019)

In Phase I, almost 8 million adolescent girls were reached with life skills and school support, 39 million individuals engaged in community-based behavior change, and 26,000 schools strengthened their adolescent girl-friendly education.

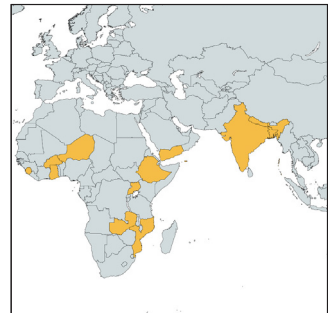

WHO WILL BENEFIT

The program's priority is engaging adolescent girls as key agents of change in the following 12 countries which account for almost half of the world's child marriages:

- | | |
|--------------|--------------|
| Bangladesh | Nepal |
| Burkina Faso | Niger |
| Ethiopia | Sierra Leone |
| Ghana | Uganda |
| India | Yemen |
| Mozambique | Zambia |

SPECIFIC OBJECTIVES

1. Elevate the voice and agency of adolescent girls by:
 - Empowering marginalized adolescent girls through skills development and knowledge-building.
 - Promoting gender equality in adolescent girls' families and communities.
2. Increase resources and opportunities for adolescent girls and their families by:
 - Strengthening education, health and child protection systems.
 - Addressing the ways that poverty drives the practice of child marriage.
3. Enhance legal and political action to prevent child marriage and to support married, divorced or widowed adolescent girls by:
 - Helping governments strengthen their plans to end child marriage.
 - Building the capacity of governments to make data-driven decisions and implement evidence-driven programs.

PROJECT HISTORY AND TIMELINE

FAST FACTS

- Globally 21% of girls are married while they are still children, robbing them of their childhoods.
- In the past decade, the proportion of women who were married as children decreased from 1 in 4 to about 1 in 5.
- It is estimated that there will be 10 million additional child brides over the course of the 2020s due to the COVID-19 pandemic.
- A tenfold increase in conflict-related deaths correlates with a 7% increase in child marriage.
- A 10% change in rainfall due to climate change is associated with a 1% increase in child marriage.

EXPECTED OUTCOMES

Marginalized adolescent girls demonstrate enhanced knowledge, skills and attitudes on matters such as rights, relationships, sexual and reproductive health, and financial literacy, including in humanitarian contexts.

Adolescent boys, families, traditional and religious leaders, community groups, and other influencers demonstrate more gender-equitable attitudes and support for girls' rights.

Capacity of education from primary through secondary school, health and sexuality programs, child protection, and gender-based violence (GBV) systems is increased to deliver quality programs and services that meet the needs of adolescent girls and their families, including in humanitarian contexts.

Capacity of national and sub-national social protection, poverty reduction and economic empowerment programs and services is increased to respond to the needs of the poorest adolescent girls and their families, including in humanitarian contexts.

Governments' capacities are enhanced to fund, coordinate and implement national and sub-national action plans and systems to end child marriage, including strengthening services and response mechanisms for victims of gender-based violence.

Capacity of governments and non-government organizations is increased to generate, disseminate and use quality and timely evidence to inform policy and program design, track progress, and document lessons.

STRATEGIES FOR SUCCESS

- Ensuring a human rights-based approach by recognizing child marriage as a human rights violation and leveraging opportunities to advance gender equality and the rights of adolescent girls.
- Leaving no one behind by addressing root causes that perpetuate structural inequities and intentionally deepening inclusion of marginalized populations.
- Fostering gender-transformative change, grounded in addressing the root causes of gender inequality and discrimination and tackle intersectional forms of exclusion.

CLIMATE IMPACT & RESILIENCE: The Global Programme will adapt and respond to the ever-changing circumstances and challenges affecting adolescent girls, child marriage, adolescent pregnancy and gender equality. This may include moving interventions to communities displaced by environmental crises or armed conflict; using digital technologies to reach populations in areas made inaccessible by floods or by insecurity; or strengthening community-based structures to ensure the continuity of interventions at the community level. It is imperative that ending child marriage becomes an integral part of all dimensions of humanitarian and climate change programming, including prevention, resilience building, mitigation and response.

SUSTAINABILITY & REPLICATION: The Global Programme Phase III will focus on sustainability through buy-ins with local governments, including resourcing costed action plans specifically built to end child marriage. Through the design and priorities of the Global Programme, Phase III will reflect an intentional effort to adapt to the polycrisis and evolving factors that influence the state of child marriage and then prepares the program for a long-standing future.

CLIMATE EMPOWER: COMMUNITY EMPOWERMENT AND INNOVATION FOR GENDER-TRANSFORMATIVE CLIMATE ACTION

GOAL

Prevent climate-induced gender-based violence (GBV) and other harmful practices through interwoven innovative approaches and community-driven interventions in Madagascar, Mozambique and South Sudan, some of the countries most vulnerable to climate change globally.

FUNDING: US$1,000,000

STRATEGIES FOR SUCCESS

- Strengthen women and girl-led community resilience-building systems.
- Identify and build capacity of women and girls as social norms champions to shift paradigm to the effect of climate change on GBV and harmful practices.
- Identify, map and support women and girls initiated and led climate-focused social innovation and entrepreneurial initiatives aimed at empowering vulnerable populations.
- Support and scale up climate and harmful practices initiatives, projects, product adoption and adaptation.
- Create a regional platform for innovative solution storytelling, and impact dissemination of community-led initiatives.

WHO WILL BENEFIT

ALMOST 500,000
direct and indirect beneficiaries in

MADAGASCAR

SPECIFIC OBJECTIVES

1. Foster gender-transformative community empowerment and capacity building for women and girls in the context of climate shocks and crises to reduce GBV and harmful practices and strengthen women and girls' role as agents of change for climate resilience.
2. Promote women and girl-led innovative solutions to build resilience and protect against GBV with an emphasis on addressing discriminatory social norms.

HOW DO GENDER EQUALITY AND CLIMATE CHANGE RELATE?

With rising temperatures, the impact of climate change in Africa is likely to further exacerbate poverty and inequality and increase the occurrence of extreme events such as cyclones and flash floods, droughts and extreme heat, destroying livelihoods and access to essential services.

As these events become more recurrent, conflicts due to the disruption of livelihood and community infrastructure will devastate women and girls. Emerging evidence shows the direct and indirect impacts of climate change on women and girls and their sexual and reproductive health and rights. Climate challenges are fueled by persistent and deeply rooted discriminatory sociocultural norms that justify or tolerate violence against women and girls and limit their autonomy in many areas of life (i.e., education, healthcare, economic empowerment), especially women and young girls in rural areas.

- Pregnant women and children disproportionately experience the impact of climate change on nutrition and health impacts.
- Women and girls' access to food, water, shelter and livelihoods is disrupted or limited.
- Services that would normally ensure women, girls and other left behind populations' safety, protection and healing from violence are disrupted.
- By 2025, climate change will cause at least 12.5 million girls in 30 low- and lower-middle income countries (22 of them African countries) each year to abruptly stop attending school.
- Climate change-related events exacerbate the drivers of child marriage, and increased temperatures may impact the intimate partner violence experienced by women and girls.

Women and girls' roles need to be leveraged as leaders in promoting climate change resilient community actions, as these are the individuals from vulnerable communities who experience the most challenging impacts of climate change. Their active involvement, therefore, in finding solutions is crucial to more gender transformative, lasting change. By integrating their perspectives, solutions are better tailored to protect all community members, specifically addressing the intersection of climate stressors and GBV.

EXPECTED OUTCOMES

Women and girls are equipped with knowledge of the impacts of climate change and crises on GBV and harmful practices and tools to advocate and mobilize for social norms change to address these impacts.

Women and youth are trained to identify and initiate solutions to build resilience against climate-induced GBV through community-led and technology enabled innovative solutions.

Climate change and GBV are included in women and youth-led entrepreneurial initiatives aimed at empowerment of vulnerable and left behind populations.

The role of innovation as a catalyst in preventing climate induced GBV and harmful practices is demonstrated through storytelling.

STRENGTHENING SERVICES FOR SURVIVORS OF GENDER-BASED VIOLENCE IN SOUTHEAST ASIA (PHASE III)

GOAL

All women and girls in Cambodia and the Philippines live life free from violence.

WHO WILL BENEFIT

Despite growing awareness of gender-based violence (GBV) and extensive work done by governments, women's organizations and other partners, many women and girls who are subjected to violence still lack access to essential services that support their safety, health, and access to justice.

The Asia Pacific region is the most disaster prone region in the world and has many protracted and complex emergencies. Natural disasters due to climate change cause population displacement, thus heightening the risk of GBV, especially among vulnerable populations.

Lack of a survivor-centered approach to GBV service provision is a key challenge in the delivery of GBV response services in the Southeast Asia region, including in Cambodia and the Philippines. Often, reported cases of GBV in Cambodia are only treated on a medical level and unless a case is considered "serious," no justice action is taken. In the Philippines, the availability of services for GBV survivors is scarce, especially outside of Manila and the main urbanized areas.

PHASE I & II

Phase I and Phase II of the UNFPA project in Papua New Guinea and Timor-Leste, in partnership with Zonta International, created a strong foundation and evidence to build Phase III of this program.

PHASE III

Phase III will expand the strengthening of skills, knowledge, and capacities of GBV responders, including health care providers in additional geographic areas in Cambodia and the Philippines. Phase III will also institutionalize the international standards and guidelines within government systems for sustainability.

FUNDING: US$750,000

SPECIFIC OBJECTIVES

Women and girls who experience violence use quality essential services, with a focus on strengthening health system responses and coordination between service providers in:

CAMBODIA

PHILIPPINES

2020

Zonta International committed US$1 million to support project Phase I of UNFPA program in Papua New Guinea and Timor-Leste.

January 2021- December 2022

With Zonta's support, Phase 1 succeeded in expanding family support centers in Papua New Guinea and Timor-Leste to provide community awareness and specialized services for GBV survivors. Action plans were established at the municipality level and the national in-service training package for healthcare providers to address GBV was developed.

2022

Zonta International committed US$750,000 to support Phase II of the program.

January 2023 – December 2024

With Zonta's support, Phase II of the program in Papua New Guinea and Timor-Leste is focused on expanding to underserved geographical locations, enhancing the quality of services, and institutionalizing the interventions in government systems.

FAST FACTS

- Asia and the Pacific region experience the highest rates of GBV in the world. 15-64% of women who have experienced physical and/or sexual violence was at the hands of an intimate partner.
- Less than 40% of women and girls in Asia and the Pacific who experience GBV seek help of any kind or do not know where to find help.
- In the Asia-Pacific region, women and girls with disabilities are exposed to higher risks of violence and face a range of additional barriers in accessing essential health, justice policing, or social support services.
- One in five women in Cambodia report experiencing GBV from an intimate partner.
- GBV is a significant human rights concern in the Philippines, with 12 percent of ever-married women having experienced some form of physical, sexual, or emotional violence from their intimate partners in the last 12 months. The highest reported region of reported GBV is one of the areas most frequently affected by typhoons.

EXPECTED OUTCOMES

Health Ministries in Cambodia and the Philippines adopt and institutionalize international standards and guidelines for survivor centered GBV services provided through the health sector.

National and sub-national governments develop and adopt GBV referral systems and GBV Standard Operating Guidelines.

Relevant government authorities and service providers have the knowledge, skills, and resources to provide quality GBV case management.

All project sites have functional referral pathways established in line with global guidelines.

STRATEGIES FOR SUCCESS

- Build a program with case management services that are survivor-centered and staffed with trained professionals to refer them to help confidentially.
- Develop capacity of GBV response services providers on international guidelines on essential services packages for women and girls subjected to violence.
- Provide technical guidance for development of guidelines on multi-sectoral coordination and referral for timely and quality response to GBV survivors.
- Deliver technical guidance for the institutionalization of GBV case management.
- Strengthen capacities of government on a local and national level to align policies and programs with international guidelines on GBV support and response.
- Support policy advocacy to assist governments in institutionalizing international standards on GBV service provision.

"When we take a client on board, we start by listening to what the survivor has to say. We let the choices be made by the survivor, because she knows best about her safety, where she's comfortable and who she should see."

LAAHA: A VIRTUAL SAFE SPACE FOR WOMEN AND GIRLS

GOAL

Laaha, the first-ever digital web-based platform created by UNICEF with women and girls, from crisis-affected regions has two primary objectives:

1. Increase knowledge on gender-based violence (GBV) and sexual and reproductive health (SRH) by providing quality and accurate information to girls and women about menstrual health and hygiene, healthy relationships, how to stay safe and know one's rights, financial literacy, female anatomy and services for women and girls facing violence. In time, this digital space will replicate the sense of a safe social network that physical safe spaces provide.
2. Reduce isolation by building safe spheres of support for adolescent girls through peer-to-peer connection through a moderated user forum.

FUNDING: US$750,000

WHO WILL BENEFIT

■ Laaha, available globally, is currently deployed in

Afghanistan
Ecuador
Iraq

Lebanon
Ukraine
Venezuela

■ In 2024, it will be deployed in

Bangladesh
Democratic Republic of Congo

Moldova
Myanmar
Türkiye

WHAT IS THE NEED

- One in three women experience violence in their lifetime and 12 million girls are married before they reach the age of 18 – violence that is exponentially made worse during humanitarian crises such as climate-based disasters, areas experiencing civil unrest, and impoverished populations.
- Safe spaces are a key approach to working with women and girls, providing them with access to information, links to services - including GBV response and prevention services, skill-building, peer connection, and support, especially in humanitarian crises. Yet, they often face barriers to accessing these physical safe spaces because of distance, security concerns, harmful gender norms, and domestic responsibilities. In humanitarian contexts characterized by insecurity, dynamic conflict, and further movement restrictions, women and girls face even greater barriers to accessing physical safe spaces. COVID-19 only exacerbated these challenges.
- When the COVID-19 pandemic broke, the digital transformation accelerated internet usage up to 60%. However, many digital innovations do not respond to the specific needs of women and girls and in some cases can put them at risk of further harm. Resourcing GBV services that extend access to a greater number of women and girls living in crisis and conflict affected environments and supporting innovation through good digital citizenship has therefore become more urgent.

With Zonta International's support, UNICEF will:

- Reach one million women and girls across the world by 2026 through Laaha's linguistically and culturally inclusive content.
- Achieve the ambitious targets of content availability in 20 languages by 2026 on Laaha.
- Provide guidance on safe GBV online moderation for women and girls.
- Show the impact of Laaha so that it can be replicated over time.

OUTCOME

The key outcome of Laaha is to facilitate access to information and services in a way that is safe, culturally appropriate, and accessible to adolescent girls and women, particularly those who face higher levels of marginalization, such as girls with disabilities and married girls.

"I believe if there was a website like Laaha growing up, I would have had a better experience starting from within myself and the protection that I needed from the outside world."

-19-year-old, Iraq

"I wanted to get help because my in-laws are very abusive and I want a house for me, my husband, and my son."

- Zara, 17-year-old refugee from Iraq

"I like the site because there are things you don't like to ask, its embarrassing to ask my mother and other people."

- Maria, 14-year-old, Ecuador

"And the truth is that I felt safe visiting the site. It's not like visiting other sites. There can be so many different sources of information - it can be true, or it can be a lie."

- Ella, 25-year-old, Iraq

HOW DOES IT WORK?

1. Laaha brought womens' and girls' voices to the core of the design process of the platform. Designers account for the gender digital divide and build accessibility for low literacy levels.

2. Women and girls can find information they have asked for including menstrual health and hygiene, healthy relationships, how to stay safe and know one's rights, financial literacy, female anatomy, and available services for women and girls facing violence or abuse.

3. Laaha provides information through articles, podcasts, and videos on their rights as women and girls, their bodies, their health and where to find the help they need.

4. A new development of an interactive chatbox allows users to find answers and to talk with a trained GBV specialist moderating for safety. The forum is overseen by a dedicated team of counselors from local partner organizations.

5. To guarantee the safety and the integrity of the system, the forum's posting functionality is disabled during times when moderators are unavailable. Laaha also supports complete anonymity, not collecting any personally identifying information like names, phone numbers or demographic details.

6. Moderators are trained through a robust framework set up by specialists and NGO partners and includes a moderator's guide, training programs and a code of conduct.

7. To ensure accessibility, Laaha content is built to use limited text and emphasize videos and other visual formats to engage users regardless of literacy or fluency with digital tools.

8. The platform is currently available in seven languages: English, Arabic, Dari, Pashtu, Spanish, Kurdish and Ukrainian.

9. An exit button always on screen allows for a quick exit from the site and clears the cache.
